THE LATE MRS. J. M. GILLISON.

Some Facts Relative to the Life of this Good Woman.

Bounty Land, May 12.—Special: At 4 o'clock on the morning of Sunday, May 4th, last, after a lingering and painful illness, the gentle and patient spirit of Mrs. J. M. Gillison passed from the shores of time into the glorious realms of eternity, death being due to progressive paralysis.

Mrs. Gillison had been in declining health for a number of years, suffering from rheumatism. She bore her affliction with Christian fortitude, possessing a marvelous degree of vitality and hoping to live for the sake of her children; but realizing the seriousness of her condition, she expressed a readiness for the change which awaited her.

Mrs. Gillison was in her 78th year, having been born August 12, 1841. Before marriage she was Miss Sallie Burns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Beaufort Burns, and was born and reared near Westminster. In early life she joined the Old Westminster Baptist church, where her membership remained for several years after her marriage, January 9, 1862, to John Marlon Gillison, when her letter was received into the Richland Presbyterian church.

Mrs. Gillison was a devout Christian, a devoted mother and a kind, whole-souled neighbor. Her passing away removes another of the community's oldest and most highly esteemed landmarks, who for the past 57 years had been identified with the social and Christian progress of the community. She possessed many admirable traits of character, among the most prominent being a keen understanding of human nature, a kind sympathy for the unfortunate and distressed, and a deep scorn and contempt for anything unworthy or mean.

Mrs. Gillison was the mother of seven children, whose names are as follows: Elijah Gillison, of West Union; Burns and Jay Gillison, of Clemson; Paul Gillison, of this community; Mrs. R. H. Smithson, Westminster; Mrs. D. A. Thornton, Hartwell, Ga.; and Mrs. C. S. Striffling, of Seneca. Besides her children she leaves a sister, Mrs. M. A. Terrell, of Westminster, sixteen grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

The sympathies of an extensive circle of friends go out to the bereaved ones.

At 5 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, in the presence of a large concourse of sorrowing relatives and friends, the remains were laid to rest in the Richland cemetery beside the grave of her husband, who preceded her to the grave ten years. A wealth of magnificent flowers—feeble but beautiful expressions of the esteem in which the deceased was held—covered the mound.

Funeral services were conducted by her pastor, Rev. I. E. Wallace, of Seneca.

The Late Dr. J. M. Collins.

Editor Keowee Courier:

We wish to correct a few inaccuracies that appeared in The Courier recently in the announcement of the death of Dr. J. M. Collins. His death occurred on Sunday, April 13th, at 11 o'clock p. m., when his soul took its flight to the God who gave it. Dr. Collins had been confined to his room for six months with paralysis, but he was seriously ill for only a few days before he died. He was 75 years of age on the 14th of February, 1919.

Dr. Collins leaves a wife and eight children, four sons and four daughters, and besides these members of his immediate family there are 43 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren to mourn his death.

In early life he united with the Baptist church, of which he was a faithful member all of his after life, and he was a regular attendant upon divine services so long as his health permitted. His body was laid to rest on Tuesday following his death, at 11 o'clock, in the Baptist cemetery at Salem, after appropriate funeral services conducted by his pastor, Rev. C. R. Abercrombie, who was assisted by Rev. B. F. Murphree, of Pickens county.

All who knew our dear father loved him, because he possessed such a kind and loving disposition. His face was as sunshine in our home.

"A precious one from us has gone,
A voice we loved is stilled;
A place is vacant in our home
Which never can be filled."

"Thou art gone, but not forgotten;
Never will thy memory fade;
Loving thoughts will ever linger
Round the grave where thou art laid." Members of Family.
